Riverside, California: Subia J. Ali has written a brilliant novel that compels readers to reflect on the importance of identity and family while highlighting a tumultuous journey of self-discovery and growth. The book, “Mausumbe Road” is a contemporary fiction novel that follows a young Pakistani American woman who travels to Karachi, Pakistan from the USA to follow her dreams. With themes of inspiration and internal fulfillment, readers will connect with main character Hena Shah and find themselves rooting for her as they examine their own lives.

“The book is a rallying cry that celebrates growth mindset and internal satisfaction while reminding readers that life’s journey does not always follow a straight line.”
